Corporate discounts are available to customers purchasing a number of licenses in a single transaction. Combinations of fixed and floating licenses are permitted – 1 floating can replace 5 fixed licenses. The discounts quoted are applied to the total purchase price of a bundle of Circa licenses – subsequent annual maintenance fees are charged at the standard prices quoted for fixed and floating licenses above. Corporate discounts cannot be combined with any other discount scheme.

Payment and Maintenance

- Software licenses will be issued when full payment is received.
- Maintenance and support at 20% of full licence fee is mandatory in the first year. Thereafter 20% of the current Circa license fee will be invoiced annually.
- Maintenance and support entitles customers to technical support by email and telephone (09:00 to 17:00 GMT), and free upgrades when new product versions are released.

License Editions and Upgrades

- Fixed licenses are for single users and are fixed to the hard drive of the license holder's PC.
- Floating licenses are made available on a server machine and can be accessed by any client PC attached to that server through a mapped network drive. A single floating license will restrict the customer to one concurrent user of the product i.e. only one person can use the product at a time. We advise that typically 5 or more project managers can effectively share a single floating license.
- A customer can easily upgrade from fixed to floating. The upgrade charge is the difference in price between the fixed and floating license.
